

CMC - the Specialists in Business and Management Education

Management Qualifications and Professional Recognition

Cambridge Management College (CMC) is both an approved Management Centre and an e-learning Centre of the leading international awarding body, Edexcel.

The Masters Foundation course is designed for students who wish to progress to a Masters Degree (MBA/MA, etc.) in business/management but don't possess the entry requirement of an appropriate first degree. This programme develops an in-depth understanding of the themes and principles of management. Students who complete the programme also receive the Edexcel Certificate in Management at no extra cost.

The Certificate in Management Studies (CMS) is an internationally recognised qualification accredited by the leading Awarding Body, Edexcel which focuses on business, management and commerce. The CMS is a developmental programme which provides an in-depth knowledge and understanding of the theories and principles of management.

The Key Elements of the Study Programme Include:

- A focus on the application of management principles, techniques and skills
- A critical evaluation of managerial concepts and principles
- The facility to apply these concepts and principles to the place of work
- The development of personal skills and managerial competencies to form the basis of career development and progression in management

The Programme of Study

The CMS is made up from the six subjects:

- Personal Development
- Managing Activities
- Managing Financial Resources
- Managing Information
- Management and Leadership
- Managing a Project

Personal competence is also developed within and between these subjects - from acting strategically to thinking and taking decisions

How You May Study

The programme is offered as a distance-learning module but you may prefer to choose the full-time option which offers face-to-face contact. Linked to this course is a series of special workshops which enable you to gain an additional professional qualification from the CMI - more details of this are provide under the heading Professional Recognition, below.

You may, of course, start off using the carefully structured Independent - Learning materials provided for the distance-learning route and these will guide you step-by-step through the course material. In addition, you will be backed up by the experienced team of tutors here in the UK and begin the journey to the qualification that you need.

Entry Requirements

As the language of tuition for the Masters^{1/2} is English, you will be required to be proficient in the use of the English Language and to be able to demonstrate this.

Students likely to benefit more-readily from the programme may have one of the following:

- a Certificate in Management
- professional qualification
- experience of working in management at an appropriate level
- students without formal qualifications but with relevant work experience may be considered for entry to this programme

Where you may study

The full-time course for the Masters 1&2/APDMS Programme, which takes 12 months, is based at a centre in London, offering the opportunity to study in a vibrant modern and cosmopolitan city. This college, which is located only a few minutes walk from a tube station will enable you to study in a pleasant environment while having all the attractions of

Progression to a Post-Graduate Degree

On successful completion of the Masters Foundation Programme, you will also receive the award of the Advanced Professional Diploma in Management Studies (APDMS) which is a Level 7 or post-graduate qualification. This will allow you to register for a Masters degree, in many cases, being exempted from the first two stages of such a degree.

Professional Recognition

With the CMS and CMC's workshops, you will be eligible to apply to the Chartered Management Institute for Membership providing that your employment is likely to allow you to:

- manage individuals and teams or organisational objectives
- carry out policy in a defined area of authority
- control limited financial budgets
- allocate work to others
- achieve specific results by using resources effectively
- contribute to broader activities, e.g. change programmes, etc.

The Institute provides many facilities for its membership, in addition to the status that professional membership provides. These include free journals and access to research information, career guidance and ready access to a global network of professionals who share your education, experience and aspirations. The opportunity for continuous professional development that the Institute provides will serve to keep you up to date with developments and ensure that you can advance yourself in your chosen profession.

It is the practical design of the course and the wide commercial/industrial experience of our tutors which will provide you with a real feel for business as well as a solid, recognised qualification. Combine this with professional membership of the CMI and writing a powerful CV will be a breeze! As it is the CV which gets you that first vital interview, your course will be the first step into your new career.
